THE EVIDENCE.

the Grand-jury.

The hearing before the Grand-jury will, under the statutes be an experie proceeding, wherein only the convicting testimony will be taken against the Delegates, and no witnesses will be summoned for the defense. With a broader view of justice, and that both sides may be presented to the Grand-jury, a state herewith. It is also due to the suspected members to say that they, in every instance, deny the allegations.

The following statement of DELEGATE
PETER R. MORRISSEY of the First Ward, published in the Republican of the 2d inst., is presumed to be as favorable a presentation of the matter for himself and DELEGATE COAKLY as he can make, but is pronounced by lawyers to be an evasion of the law. "The law don't require me to be a property-owner, but I am. I didn't know that a delegate had to be a tax payer until Chris Schawacker told me a few days before the election. I then went and hunted up some of my friends who were delinquent, and bought with Jerry Coakly a lot in the Page avenue addition owned by P. J. Tanfe, on which the taxes were delinquent for two years. He bought it, paid $1,000 for it, and paid all the taxes on it up to date two days before the election. My tax receipts are at my house and anybody can see them. I don't like to have anything like this going around about me, because I'm going to be a candidate for re-election, I think."

DELEGATE E. P. FOX of the Fifteent Ward does not appear on the books of '88 or POST-DISPATCH reporter several days ago said

Ward does not appear on the books as a tar-payer and claims that the property at Seventh and Biddle streets reverted to him and his mother at the death of his father. However,

The Assistant Circuit Attorney Betained as BRIEFLY, the Argument in this case is as follows: The city charter provides certain necessary qualifications for members of the House of Delegates. These are a guarantee to the voters that the candidates are responsible men having common interests with the citizens. It is the law, with which all candidates must comply, It is made effective by the oath which it prescribes shall be taken. That oath, in accordance with the intention of the charter, makes the taker specifically swear "that I possess all the qualifications prescribed by sections 5 and 6 of Article III. of the City Charter and that I am not subject to any of the disqualifications therein named." The criminal intent of any man who would subscribe to this intent of any man who would subscr The question of whether the Grand-jury will of grant-jury.

With this evidence and tement the case is respectfully submitted to has most to do with the Grand-jury, directing The Boodle Awaiting the Dutiful Chicago attorney of the Gould Southwest system. His intimate connection therewith and the seal with which he worked with and aided Private Detective Furlong of the Missouri Pacific in the alleged telegraph wire-tapping conspiracy during the recent strike is fresh in the ememory of the public, and his relations to the case were deemed incompatible with a high sense of his duties as a public official. Now, however, he returns to conduct an investigation into the alleged bribery and corruption of certain members of the House of Delegates when the Gould lobby is suspected to have been active in these notorious schemes.

Assistant Circuit Attorney McDonald has recently visited Hillsbord as the attorney of the Iron Mountain Road to conduct a prosecution against the strikers on behalf of Jay Gould. If he is retained by the Gould people, and is in their employ, how can be be expected to be energetic in ferreting out official rascality which may involve or reflect on the people who employ him? Hence it is that there are already heard mutterings that the Grand-jury investigation will prove abortive.

Assistant Circuit Attorney McDonald's relation to the Gould people is shown in the following story:

He has been recently at Hillsboro, Jefferson county, prosecuting cases against alleged lawbreaking strikers of DeSoto. He visited DeSoto during the strike in the same interest. It was said yesterday morning that he had just returned from Chicago. His visit there was of short duration, as he concluded the pressing portion of his labors at Hillsboro on July 1. He went to Hillsboro to try these cases about the 25th of June in company with Robert McDonald of this city of the Missouri Pacific law department. They assisted, nominally, the local Prosecuting Attorney, J. F. There were two defendants, Wilson et al., charged with assaulting one Miller in Hillsboro. The assault was alleged to have been committed during the recent strike on the Southwest System. Miller was a Knight of Labor and went out with the others at DeSoto when the order was given. He grew anxious, and before the termination of the strike returned to work. He was assaulted one day after his return and beaten with his own pistol until he was unconscious. This case was tried before Judge Thomas, Circuit Judge of Chicago is making a determined, and so far essful, effort to get back from St. Louis some of the money paid to this market on wheat. For months St. Louis drew in profits steadily on her trades, making gains of from five to twenty-five cents through selling wheat short. The amount of money made on the bear side was something immense, enabling St. Louis traders to live on the fat of the land and ride in nothing short of carriages. It is not likely that Gould or his lieutenants would want any dirty work which may have been done for them brought to the light of day, and the Gould people will want to protect members of the House of Delegates from the charges, if not out of gratitude for past service, at least in expectation of tuture favors. He stated this morning that his concern had an immense line of wheat soid, both here and in Chicago. For a week past they had been quietly buying in, but had not been able to cover all their line. The late big jump in price caught them badly, but just how they stood he could not say. Margin calling has been very heavy, yesterday and to-day, and bank clerks and commission clerks are kept on the jump attending to this. It is stated that one St. Louis trader got out of his short wheat yesterday with a loss of $40,000.

Coal Miners.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 7.—A convention of miners of the Connelsville region will be held to-morrow to consider a proposal for the final settlement of the wage question on a sliding scale basis. The object is to adjust wages exactly according to the amount of work done in proportion to the selling price of coke. The proposal is to take the present rates of 95 cents a hundred bushels for mining, and 63 and 70 a hundred bushels for mining, and 63 and 70 cents an oven for drawing when coke is selling at $1.50 per ton as a standard. The minimum would be 81 cents a hundred bushels when coke sells at $1.20, which is considered the lowest price at which it could be sold at a profit. The wages would be scaled up in this basis to a $4 selling price, which is about as high as coke has gone in late years. Thus the workmen would be secured a share of the benefit of a "boom," which they did not have in former years, and the existence of a minimum rate of wages would check any tendency of the operators to sell at less than a profitable rate. The proposal is looked on with favor among the workmen and is almost certain of adoption. When adopted the Kights of Labor of the region will be appointed by each organization to join in drafting the scale for submission to the operators. Its acceptance would render the repetition of such a strike as that of last winter impossible.

Richard Chamberlain, Joseph's brother, against whom the feeling in London was so strong that he entirely renounced public meetings, was returned by an increased majority of 7s. In London there was only one Liberal victory. At Chester Dr. Foster, the new President of the National Liberal Federation, is turned out of his old seat by a Tory, chiefly by the influence of the Duke of Westminster. The feeling of the Radicals is expressed by Truth to-day: "What will be the duty of the Eadicals in the next Parliament should Giadstone find himself unable to carry on the Government? CUSTOMS OFFICERS' FRAUDS.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 7.—There is a nice little scandal here over damaging disclosures made against the Custom House Department. Not against the Custom House Department. Not long ago the sum of $4,000 was paid by one member of a certain firm in Montreal to a second party for the purpose of hushing up a case of fraud. There have been no less than eight cases in which the customs officers ciaim to have positive evidence of fraud against importers, and in more than one case where perjury was charged, and in one where an arrest was made, they ciaim that the department officers have shut their eyes to the crime and receive money in the shape of considerations for such condoning of crime, notably the Patterson, Kissock & Co. case. The motion to quash in the case of Frederick H. Bergman, Gottlieb Jabolowsky, Martin Funck and Otto Fricke, Martin Funck and Otto Fricke, the anarchiest charged with unlawful assembly, was argued this atternoon in the Court of Criminal Correction, James J. McBride representing the defense and Prosecuting Attorney Claiborne the State. Judge Nooman sustained the motion to quash holding that there was nothing to show that the alieged unlawful resolutions as offered were adopted. It would be impossible to prove the Chicago trouble without trying the Chicago cases over down here. The pleadings were unsound and the method of presenting the case under the pleadings impracticable. If the resolutions were only offered, and there was nothing to show they had been adopted, it was merely an opinion and every one was entitled to his opinion in this country. Besides this Government was strong enough and there was no use in inspiring simidity by paying any attention to the vaporings of a lew men who held peculiar views on social and political questions. It was time enough to prosecute when they were guilty of some covert act.

"Another advertising job, Ned, like the last Grand-jury report?" said the Secretary. Mr.

and it may be like the gas question, decided late."

The refusal to impart information had such an insultation of good humor about it that it was impossible to urge the point.

"Well, you have decided what you will do in the matter, have you not?"

His Honor ran his hands through his seer-suckers and smilled, and shook one leg of his pantaloons like a boy at a picule trying to dislodge a bug. "Well, really I don't think I should be compelled to answer that. You newspaper boys shouldn't try to place me in the position of the Arkansaw Judge, you know, who said that he would take the case under advisement for ten days but would ultimately decide for the plaintiff."

Gen. Stevenson came bounding up the stairs from the water office to see what the laugh was about, but matters had again subsided and the reporter had realized then there was no information in the joke.

The general impression of those around the "barn" given to forcasting such events is that the bill will be vetoed.

FOOLED THE FARMERS. AN INDIGNANT LOBBYIST SUES FOR LIBEL.

Minister Cox's Successor—The Forfeiture Bill Signed—Mrs. Cleveland's Pictures—The Senate's Order of Business-Washington

H. Loh, formerly an assistant secretary of the American Agricultural and Dairy Association. The arrest was for criminal libel growing out of an interview held with Loh by the correspondent of the Pittsburg Dispatch and Cincinnati Enquirer, and which was published in those papers. Reall has been sending out begging circulars to farmers all winter. The money they sent was received by Reall, who sent receipts. No books were kept. Loh stated in his interview that Reall was president, treasurer, board of directors and executive committee; in other words, was the association himself, and hired assistants to help him in his work. Reall also ran an agricultural paper, and was also President of the Delayell Separator Company of Chicago. Reall threatens to sue the two newspapers. Reall is the head of the butter lobby that has been here all winter.

Different views were taken, full length and bust, and from them will be selected the one which is to be put on sale. Since she has become known here there has been a general demand for a picture doing her more justice than that first placed on sale.

Mr. Jackson of Pennsylvania attacked the veto policy of the Bresident, who, he declared, was not actuated by any regard for the worth and merit of private pension bills. His reason for vetoing the bills was not that they were unworthy. His reason was apparent on the face of his messages. He was greatly in sympathy with a party opposed to pensioning Union soldiers, and he did not propose that any Union soldiers should be pensioned if he could avoid it It was said the President meant right. He did mean right—to please a certain element in the country, but not right to pleaseloyal people.

There seems to be a general stagnation of the temperature throughout the entire country with the exception of the extreme north lake stations such as Duluth, where there has been considerable fall. It was thought that the wind, which last night was from the north, might possibly effect this section, but the wind changed to the eastward and the hoped-for solace falled to arrive. The probabilities are now that the heated spell will continue, probably increasing until it terminates in storms of a pretty general nature.

SEDALIA SELECTED. September 1.

The question of the place of holding the next convention was taken up and on motion, persons representing competing points were imited to five minutes time in which to present their claims. Louis Wagner spoke in behalf of Jefferson City, Judge Soirk urged the claims of Sedalia, and Henry Ziegenheim those of St. Louis. Secretary Mott read a letter from Mrs. Lesile Marmaduke asking that the convention be held at Sweet Springs. The vote was taken by ballot and resulted in favor of Sedalia.

A committee composed of Messrs. Orowell of Ransas City, Ziegenheim of St. Louis, Widdecombe of Boouville, Tracey of Springfield and Pelham of Hannibal, were appointed to draft the call for the State Convention.

A DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS SPLIT.

A prominent attorney and politician who attended the meeting of the Missouri Bar Association at Sweet Springs last week informed a Fost-Disparch reporter this morning that Maj. John Edwards had stated to him that the fight against Cockreil was anything but hopeless. The Major, he said, cited ten different counties in which primary elections have been held and which are claimed by Cockreil's friends, in which primary elections have been held and which are claimed by Cockreil's friends, in which primary elections have been held and which are claimed by Cockreil's friends, in which the Democratic majority is very small, ranging between fifty and 100 votes, and he said that even should Cockreil carry his men in the county nominating conventions, their election is extremely doubtful. In conclusion the Major made the startling prediction that if there were not sufficient votes in the Democratic caucus to defeat Cockreil, there was danger of a split in the party ranks and a strong probability of the election of a good Repulican. The Major said furthermore that the "rule or ruin" cry of Cockreil's supporters conveyed the impression that Cockreil was the only issue in the campaign, which, according to the Major, is not true to a very great extent. There are other candidates for other offices in the field and other State and National issues to consider which will have the effect of obscuring Cockreil's sun for a while at least.

A Good Old Story from Chicago.

From the Chicago News.

Mr. Kuhn, the proprietor of Knhn's garden, was thrifty in money matters, but cared little for his own personal appearance. He had worn the same old greasy overcoat until his sons were ashaused of him and tried to induce him to hux a new one.

ashamed of him and tried to induce him to buy a new one.

"Oh, no," the old gentleman would say,
"I would rather have the $50 that it woulcost."

One day the sons determined that he should wear a new coat, and believing that if he could get one at a good bargain he would buy it, arranged with a tailor to sell him a $50 one for $10, they to pay the difference. Then they went home and told their father what a handsome coat thew they had seen, and what a bargain it would be to buy it. So the father went and looked at it, and after beating the tailor down to $9, took it and started for home.

But when he reached home he had no cont with him.

"Didn't you buy the coat father?"

"Yes; got it for $9," replied the old gentleman.

"Where is it?"

"Oh, I was showing it to a friend in the street-car, and when he offered me $15 for it I let him have it. I cleared $6 on that transaction."

Manua from the East.

Prom the Baltimore Sun.

Don Luigi Sartori writes to the Sun from Upper Falls Post-office, Baltimore County, Md., as follows: "Traveling in the East last year, from Arabia to Palestine, I met a good Armenian Catholic priest coming from Mespotamia. Among various articles of diet he brought with him in his journey to Constantinoble there were about five pounds of manna incased in a leather bag. At his meals he partook of that food as we do of cakes. He positively maintained that such food falls from heaven as white powder two or three times a year, and is collected from the leaves of trees and from the surface of flat stones. The food, when protected by leather, will keep for five or six years. I send you a piece of this manna for curiosity. I eat of this food, and it contains a great deal of sugar. From the positive description of the good priest it cannot be a natural exudation from the leaves and branches of the plant alhagi maurorum, which was believed by the early Arabian writers to have fallen from heaven. New York, July 7, 11 a. m.—First prices at the stock Exchange this morning were irregular, but generally within is to is per cent of lat evening's closing figures; though Northern Pacific preferred was up is per cent. There was a moderately active trading in the early dealings and the decline of yesterday was soon resumed, declines ranging from it to its per cent being made before 10:30 a. m., but Western Union was particularly active and weak, iosing i per cent, while the coal stocks were firm, Jersey Central advancing 11% per cent. The market then became quiet, the decline was checked, and by 11 o'clock most of the early losses were regained, and in some cases fractions in addition. At 11 o'clock the market say losses were regained, and in some cases fractions in addition. At 11 o'clock became very duli, although there was some light trading in Western Union, St. Paul, Jersey Central and Northwestern. There was very little movement to prices, though a heavy tone prevailed until near noon, when there was considerable firmness displayed, especially by Western Union and Jersey Central, which advanced fractions, and at 12 o'clock the market is quiet but firm.

AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT. Unrig's Cave-The Pirates of Penzance. Sings of Panis-Thirteenth and Washing

THE granting of a tunnel franchise by the Chicago Board of Aldermen indicates some underground business.

YESTERDAY, while Congress was debatsent in twenty-one vetoes of small bills.

Russia informs the Powers that Batoum is no longer a free port, though the declaration violates a treaty guarantee. The Czar is defending this measure by massing troops in Bessarabia. It is a part of the Russian faith that inconvenient treaties should have but a short natural in the Senate for the protection of women and children in the District of Columbia. One way in which such protection could be afforded would be to prevent Senators from making improper and salacious

THE gift of a tunnel franchise to a street railway has filled the atmosphere of Chi- one House pension bills, making a total of cago with indignant protests, and there is loud talk of sending a bevy of Aldermen to the Penitentiary. But there, as here, the boodlers rely on the bosses for protection, and quietly ask the people, "What are you going to do about it?"

A MERE suspicion of "British Gold" ha long been used as a very effective rallying cry in American elections. The open sending of large sums of American gold to influence British elections in Ireland's behalf has probably cut both ways. Popular jealousy of foreign dictation, money or interference is not confined to the United States.

READING in an editorial article in "extreme agitation and they are liable to moved to remark that the able Editor of the Sun continues to be in a state of ignor.

PRINCE LUITPOLD, the Bavarian Regent, is starting out like a genuine civil service reformer, and informs his Ministers in them to hold their positions. It is probable that offensive partisanship is a scarcer article in Bayaria than it is in America, and that LUITPOLD has more tractable material to handle than Mr. CLEVELAND.

"DEAR Old Scotland," as Mr. GLAD-STONE calls her, has done much better than was expected, and Wales, another Liberal stronghold, is yet to be heard from. GLADSTONE's defeat by a coalition majority may be indicated, but such a defeat of his party cannot be much of a victory for any other party. They can make only a temporary and negative use of it when they get it.

THE initial Tory successes in the English other elements; and if such shall be the will greatly curtail the power of the Parnellites for several years; and doubtless more vigorous foreign policy.

THE Republicans have nominated JOHN A. DONNELL in the Sixth Iowa Congressional District, now represented by JAMES thirty-eight, he should look around at abstention of Liberal voters caused by the Greenbacker's talent for fusion is the only HARTINGTON. The result he anticipates thing to which he can point with pride.

Onio follows the example of New York who will not take part in with a self-supporting penitentiary. No coalition cabinet. Even if standard maintained. Ohlo sends her best they will grant Home Rule to Ireland. In men to the penitentiary, and has thus any event it will be their policy to perpetuate tone of the finest institutions of the land and tre-kind in the whole country. When Misland and to remain in power by using that land and to remain a to the land and to remain power by using that land and to remain to the land and to remain a to the land ouri and Illinois send more talent to their animosity to break up the Liberal party.

of Our Own Times," and Parnellite can-didate for Londonderry, was defeated by three votes, his opponent being C. E. LEWIS, Conservative. Mr. McCarthy has been a very useful member of the House of Commons, having acquired a reputation as a thoughtful and accomplished man, of just and temperate views. He will demand a sorutiny of the poll, and enough errors may be discovered to reverse

THE Blaine Republicans undertook the task of compassing Gen. EDMUNDS' defeat by the Vermont Legislature for his coldness and indifference during the last Presidential campaign. The result teaches that the Vermont Republicans fully indorse the alleged coldness and indifference displayed by their Senator; and leaves the public to the inference that they would not be angry if he should repeat the offense under a similar provocation.

AT the last moment the Senate receded from its obstinate demand for the notorious steamship subsidy steal, and its action is due solely to the unyielding position assumed by the House of Representatives in opposition to the measure. It is well that the House won in this fight, since the precedent established will be valuable hereafter. The Senate is properly regarded as the subsidy branch of the National Legislature, in which vast corporations and monopolies find their staunchest support, and its defeat after a hard struging the River and Harbor bill, CLEVELAND gle on a subsidy issue is a matter for hearty congratulation.

LORD SALISBURY is in a cave of patriotic gloom and his heart beats sadly for his country. He is firmly convinced that GLADSTONE, whom he pronounces "a persistent political apostate," has placed England between the devil and the deep sea, where one or the other is sure to get her. "If GLADSTONE's plans are carried," he says, "civil war is certain and SENATOR INGALLS has introduced a bill "a foreign war is possible, and, if those 'plans are rejected, the country will forthwith pass into the most critical stage of Irish and English history.' This would be alarming, if it were not the from making improper and salacious speeches while women and children are in service in every struggle against GLAD-STONE'S measures for thirty years past.

> THE President yesterday vetoed twenty-Out of this large number of disapproved bills, it is very probable that some have been vetoed which should have been signed; but there can be no doubt that the President has, on the whole, made a just and timely use of the veto power. Many of the vetoed bills have been so notoriously improper, or so negligently framed, that it was a disrespectful reflection on the President's intelligence to send them to him; and some of the unexpected critical comments which he has made in returning disapproved bills, finds at least a partial excuse in the extraordinary nature of the

It was contended that the instructions given to the jury by the Court in regard to the proper value to be given to the opinion of attorneys who testified as experts concerning the value of legal services were erroneous. The instructions given received the approval of the United States Supreme Court and has been repeatedly given in earlier cases by this court and the court is not prepared to change its view of that subject unless directed to do so by some of the reviewing courts of Missouri. The case was fairly presented to the jury, and no good reason has been given to disturb their findings on the facts. The motion for a new trial is overruled.

NEW YORK, July 7.—District Attorney Mar dertaker, who has been boycotted by the Un-dertakers' Association. He told the story of his woes—how the wholesale dealers in undertakers' goods wouldn't sell him anything because the associations would not recognize him, and he wanted redress. Assistants Nicoli and Pardy with whom he talked said they thought he had undoubtedly a case, but invited him to call again to-day and have a talk with Mr. Martine and the latter would then decide about sending the case to the Grand-jury. Mr. Nicoli said: "This is not labor against capital, but capital against capital, and these men are just as guilty as any other boyootters and ought to be treated in the same way. They are worse, in fact, for they are trying to build up a monopoly and drive this man out of business because he sees fit to advertise and fix prices without consulting them."

ATWOOD, Ill., July 7.-Twenty-five mer under the Sheriff stood guard around the residence of Henry Wildman last night. There had been so much talk during the day of lynching that the strong guard was deemed a wise move in the interest of law and order. Last evening the news was given out that Wildman was sinking fast anyhow, and the Wildman was sinking fast anyhow, and the mob would only be cutting death out of a job, as Wildman himself would welcome death in almost any form. This morning he was refreshed after a fair night's rest and asked for a siate and pencil. "Sorry, very sorry," were the first words he wrote, referring to the murder of his wife. He is willing and anxious to die, and begged his nurse to give him a pistoi and let him finish the job. The wounded man has been able to take no nourishment since he cut his throat. Water given him to drink runs out at the wound. Unless matters mend he will literally starve to death, for but little stimulant can be given him by injection. given him by injection.

Death of Two Little Girls—Laying the Blame

COULTERVILLE, Ill., July 7 .- As stated in the POST-DISPATCH of yesterday all the doctors here are puzzled over nearly two hundred girls, Ada and Bessie Wilson, died yesterday afternoon in great agony. The symptoms are those of cholera morbus or poisoning. Some the Prohibitionists and are leading and directing the men. The prohibition people are working night and day, and have prominent and successful workers from other sections assisting them in a thorough origination. Speeches, the forming of clubs, and barbecus in their interest are found nearly every day in each district of the county. The anti-Prohibition people are not idle by any means, but fear they have not been so aggressive as their opponents in organization, but their executive committee have asked that a division be given in public discussion, and if a favorable response is received the excitement will be greatly increased. Some bad feeling is manifested, but so far no violence has occurred.

THE RIGHT TO USE THE WABASH TRACK

Formal Demand of the St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado Road for the Use of the Rails Refused—The Matter to Be Tested in the Courts—History of the Wabash Agree-tion and arbitration of the courts that is of the most vital importance to the city of St. mercial welfare. The matter in which the aid of the law is to be invoked is an application of the St. Louis, Kansas City & Colorado Raliroad Company to the Wabash Raliway for the stellar for the stellar forms. the right to run trains over its line fro Forest Park to the Union Depot and the formal refusal of that right by the latter company. The importance of the matter is just in this point. It is said that there is about the

Mr. How of the Wabash, when seen said that the company had refused the Colorado people the right to run trains over their line because they didn't believe that they could enforce it under the agreement of 1875.

The technical construction of that apparently plain contract by which they proposed to avoid its enforcement was one that they would make public at the proper time. If Mr. Orrick wished to learn it he knew the proper method.
Another attorney, who had the confidence of the Wabash people but did not wish his name used, said that the point the Wabash was relying upon was the lapse of time since the making of the contract. They would plead the statute of limitation. He added, however, that in his opinion the plea would be ineffective because the rights guaranteed other roads by the contract could not accrue to the Colorado until the formation of that company, and as it had only been in existence about a year the statute of limitation could of course not be successfully introduced.

The Mobile & Olio, since its purchase of pany, and as it had only been in existence about a year the statute of limitation could of course not be successfully introduced.

The Mobile & Ohio, since its purchase of the Cairo & St. Louis Narrow Guage, has been quietly but quickly working to get its share of traffic out of St. Louis to the South. It has always done its share of freight business, but has never been much for passengers, except in Mardi-Gras times. Yesterday morning the work of fitting up the office at No. 106 North Fourth street was completed, when it was made public that it was to be the ticket and freight offices of the M. & O. This means that the management is getting into a position to compel a recognition of the fact that it is a southern passenger road as well as a freight route. A Southern passenger war is among the possibilities of the fall.

The Charlotte Harbor Division of the Forida Southern Railroad from Pemberton, Fla., to Charlotte Harbor will be formally opened for traffic on the 15th inst., forming a continuous all-rail ins from New York to Pinta Gorda on the Charlotte Harbor. Pinta Gorda will then be the most southerly deep water harbor in the United States, and consequently the steamer line soon to be established between that point and Havana and Central and South American points will be the shortest from this country to those points. Pinta Gorda is, by 120 miles, the most southerly railroad terminus in the United States.

THE WOMEN WORKING.

The Prohibitionists Making It Red Hot in Mississippi.

Vicksburg, Miss., July 7.—There has not been so much excitement in years as there is now in Mississippi over the local option elections. The question comes to a vote in this county on the 17th inst. Everybody is aroused and at work on one side or the other. The women and children are an active element for the Prohibitionists and are leading and directing the men. The prohibition people are not in their interest are found nearly every day in each district of the county. The anti-Prohibition people are not idle by any means, but fear they have not been so aggressive as the professions to become great disturbers.

J. B. Barnes, Superintendent of Motive Power, and J. R. Lape, Master Mechanic at Moberley, are in he city.
J. A. Hooper of the Gould system at Austin, Tex., is in town.
Col. S. W. Fordyce, President of the St. Louis, Arkansas & Texas, has returned from text is busy receiving bids for grading and a twe bridge for a standard gauge road.
The horizon of the passenger Committee is beginning to brighten up. Word was received from George H. Daniels, commissioner of the Passenger Committee, to the effect that the New York, Chicago & Atlantic the New York, Chicago & St. Louis and the Lake Fre & Western, have signified their willingness to enter either the Central Traffic or the Central Committee; it between consolidated. A meeting will be called in a few days to consider these matters. It is probable to consolidation will take piace as it is very important that these lines be taken in as they are in positions to become great disturbers.

IN NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

Dr. F. W. LTTLE, Lebanon, Ill., says: "I have personally used it with marked advantage, when overworked and the nervous system much depressed."

And He Is Now Wearing a Bestraining Straight-Jacket.

BUTTALO, N. Y., July 7.—Albert Braun, a book agent, has been arrested here on charges of forging the names of prominent firms to order books published by the Elistner Publishing Company of Louisville, Ky. After his arrests he tried to beat out his brains against the wall of his cells. He was put in a straight-jacket.

A Linguistic Squabble.

There is a very animated discussion now in progress in the Turner societies of the city. One faction demands that no language other than German languages shall be spoken. The subject has reached such a point that a vote is to be taken on the matter at the District Convention to be held July it at the South St. Louis Turner Hail. From present indications it is a matter of doubt as to which faction will be victorious.

New York, July 7.—From the evidence, collected by the committee of five which the Brooklyn Presbytery has appointed to investigate the record of Rev. Benj. Staunton of the Basid "Good day, Mr. Staunton of the Fort Greene Presbyterian Church.
Brooklyn, it appears that Mr. Staunton is one of the most remarkable clerical criminais of the country. Even those who knew him best and thought least of him are absolutely astonished at the great mass of testimony, which the committee has collected. According to this evidence, to which the writer has had access, Mr. Staunton was born at Cornwall, England, about forty years ago. His name was not Staunton at all, but Benj. Collier. His father was a respectable squire, who died brover, who were old friends of his father.

So he moved to Brooklyn. That was a little over five years ago. A printer named Stoothoff was then conducting Sunday-school services in a small hall in Ridgewood. Staunton formed his acqualitance and we him the preaching and Stoothoff to take up the collections and run the Sunday school. This plan seemed to have worked very well for the first six months and trun the Sunday school and full reliance in the sunday school and church. She was very much exhausted to let her return when she tried to get back an hour later. Finally he took her back. She asked for a separation, which he at first refused, and afterward agreed to. He said he would get his friend, Mr. Briggs, to give them a separation. Just before the Stauntons came to Briggs, however, he learned things about the husband he had never known before, and escured an appointment as a notary public. The separation, therefore, was legal, and when Staunton realized that he was furious. But this was only the beginning of his troubles. The Presbytery of Brooklyn at last took action by appointing a committee to investigate. They reported that the rumors they had been appointed to examine did exist. But they made no recommendations.
